HSBC Global High Yield Bond Fund

Share Class A and Class I

- ¹ Yield to maturity (YTM) reflects the rate of return an investor could receive if a long-term bond is held until the maturity date. Average maturity is the average length of maturity for fixed income investments in a portfolio. Duration is a measure of the sensitivity of the price (the value of principal) of a fixed-income investment to a change in interest rates. Rising interest rates generally mean falling bond prices, while declining interest rates mean rising bond prices.
- ² Utilizing both the Standard and Poor and Moody's quality rating, securities will be classified according to the Standard and Poor classification. Where there is a split rating, the median of the rating agencies will be used. If a security is not eligible for a rating, i.e. Equity and Cash, it is categorized as Not Applicable. When a security is not rated, but eligible to be rated, it is categorized as Not Rated. Further, if a security is rated by only one rating agency, it will use that agency's rating exclusively. Standard & Poor's rates securities from AAA (highest quality) to C (lowest quality) with BBB and above being called investment grade securities. BB and below are considered below investment grade.
- ³ Reflects the expense ratio as reported in the prospectus dated February 28, 2018. HSBC Global Asset Management (USA) Inc., the Fund's investment adviser has entered into a contractual expense limitation agreement with the Fund under which it will limit total expenses of the Fund (excluding interest, tax, brokerage commissions, extraordinary expenses and estimated indirect expenses attributable to the Fund's investments in investment companies) to an annual rate of: Class A: 1.15%, Class I: 0.80%. The expense limitation agreement is effective until March 1, 2019.
- ⁴ This yield is based on a 30-day period and is computed by dividing the net investment income per share earned during the period by the maximum offering price per share on the last day of the period. The SEC 30-day yield reflects a reduction in the Fund's fees. Without the reduction of those fees, the yield would have been A: 2.40%, I: 2.86%.

Investment Risks:

There is no assurance that a portfolio will achieve its investment objective or will work under all market conditions. The value of investments may go down as well as up and you may not get back the amount originally invested. Portfolios may be subject to certain additional risks, which should be considered carefully along with their investment objectives and fees. Investments in foreign markets entail special risks such as currency, political, economic, and market risks. The risks of investing in emerging markets geographies are greater than the risks generally associated with foreign investments. Fixed income securities are subject to credit and interest rate risk. Credit risk refers to the ability of an issuer to make timely payments of interest and principal. Interest rate risk refers to fluctuations in the value of a fixed income security resulting from changes in the general level of interest rates. In a declining interest rate environment, the portfolio may generate less income. In a rising interest rate environment, bond prices may fall. Investments in high-yield securities (commonly referred to as "junk bonds") are often considered speculative investments and have significantly higher credit risk than investment grade securities. The prices of high-yield securities, which may be less liquid than higher rated securities, may be more vulnerable to adverse market, economic or political conditions. Derivatives may be riskier than other types of investments and could result in losses that significantly exceed the Fund's original investment. Convertible securities entail risks associated with equity securities (whose value can fluctuate based on changes in a company's financial condition or overall market conditions); investments in convertible securities are subject to the risks associated with fixed-income securities.
