

HSBC Global High Yield Bond

Third Quarter 2017

Fund Overview

Class A: HBYAX

Class I: HBYIX

Attractive return potential in a global high yield environment

This actively managed strategy aims to maximize total return through specialized credit selection and top-down strategic positioning. With a portfolio of 200+ non-investment grade bonds, the fund offers exposure to a broad range of sectors in global credit markets. At least 80% of net assets are invested in a globally diversified portfolio of high yield securities in the US, Europe and emerging markets. The fund invests predominantly in BB and B (considered lower grade credit or commonly referred to as 'junk bonds') rated corporate bonds with the flexibility to invest in investment grade or CCC rated bonds opportunistically.¹

Seeks optimal global high yield return for the least risk

- 1 Attractive risk/reward profile. HSBC's relative value focus specializes in uncovering value from misunderstood US and international corporate debt. The fund targets higher risk-adjusted returns than the benchmark through careful portfolio construction, risk budgeting and risk measurement.
- 2 Global diversification using a sleeve structure. The lead portfolio manager allocates assets across 3 regional sleeves (US/EUR/EM). This structure captures different yield, quality, duration and volatility characteristics of the global opportunity set.
- 3 Research-driven, risk focused. The HSBC global credit platform leverages the company's geographic reach and gives the lead portfolio manager direct access to experienced teams of portfolio managers and credit research analysts around the world. Identifying, pricing and combining risks is also at the core of our investment approach.

Performance drivers

Investment success in the global credit markets relies on strict issuer selection, valuation discipline and risk and liquidity management.

Key Risks

There is no assurance that a portfolio will achieve its investment objective or will work under all market conditions. The value of investments may go down as well as up and you may not get back the amount originally invested. Portfolios may be subject to certain additional risks, which should be considered carefully along with their investment objectives and fees.

- Fixed income is subject to credit and interest rate risk. Credit risk refers to the ability of an issuer to make timely payments of interest and principal. Interest rate risk refers to fluctuations in the value of a fixed income security that result from changes in the general level of interest rates. In a declining interest rate environment, a portfolio may generate less income. In a rising interest-rate environment, bond prices fall.
- High Yield Investments in high yield securities (commonly referred to as "junk bonds") are often considered speculative investments and have significantly higher credit risk than investment grade securities. The prices of high yield securities, which may be less liquid than higher rated securities, may be more volatile and more vulnerable to adverse market, economic or political conditions.
- Foreign and emerging markets Investments in foreign markets involve risks such as currency rate fluctuations, potential differences in accounting and taxation policies, as well as possible political, economic, and market risks. These risks are heightened for investments in emerging markets which are also subject to greater illiquidity and volatility than developed foreign markets.
- Derivative instruments Derivatives can be illiquid, may disproportionately increase losses and may have a potentially large negative impact on performance.
